Lucky Gustaf

At the local Court, last week, the adjourned case of Gustaf Monvek, charged with the theft of a car battery, was up. The prisoner claimed extenuating circumstances, saying he was drunk at the time of the theft; and stated further, to prevent a recurrence of the act, he submitted to having himself interdicted. Taking all the circumstances into consideration, Magistrate Williams imposed a fine of $5 and costs. Geo. J. Bryan appeared for defendant.

Roadhog Truck Drivers

A motorist was instantly killed last week on the road near Morinville when thrown thru the windshield of his car as his auto overturned into the ditch while trying to avoid colliding with a motor truck which was said to be traveling in the middle of the road.

The victim of the accident, Mr Crawford, will be remembered by Stonevites, as deceased was the gent who had been giving a movie-picture show here every week during the winter of 1925-6. He was traveling the Morinville-Westlock movie circuit when the accident happened.

Wages for Harvest Help

The leading question now for farmers is, the price to be paid harvest help. It is generally conceded no fancy wages will be paid this season. An organization of harvesters in Edmonton have set a scale for its members to ask 50c an hour; 75c an hour for working on combines; an 8 hour day, and price and a half for overtime. Farmers hereabouts cannot see things in this light, and are offering a wage way below this standard. Men are said to have been hired in town here at $1.25 to $1.75 a day; and some at $35 a month. A local farmer was offering, on Saturday, to pay 25 cents an acre for stooking—with no takers.

Why Not Enforce the Regs.?

Now that the motor season is in full swing and cars are parked on Main St. every evening, we hear the usual run of complaints of drivers disregarding even the common traffic rules, especially on Saturday nights.

This is not to be wondered at, seeing that no visible attempt is made to enforce the regulations. Turning at all places in the streets, parking on the wrong side of the road, and driving far faster than there is any need to, are quite noticeable, even on a crowded Saturday evening. Stony Plain is an outstanding example of a town where road rules are made to be observed. It is true we cannot recall any serious accidents on our streets, but Prevention is better than cure, so the old proverb goes, and the time to take preventive measures is now.

The Russian Menace

Soviet Russia presents a menace to Great Britain, Canada, the United States, in fact, to all countries which depend for their prosperity upon a world export trade. Russia is today not one of impending war fought by armies and navies, rifles, cannon, tanks, bombs and aircraft, but of a great economic struggle for world trade, and of the countries most likely to be seriously affected by such a struggle the British Commonwealth of Nations, and the United States come first.

Prior to the Great War it was frequently contended that wars between nations were brought about by armament manufacturers and captains of industry seeking territory within which they might enjoy more or less exclusive rights of trading. The Great War itself, was, in the final analysis, caused by Germany's ambition to secure larger world markets and a greater colonial empire. The German navy was created for the express purpose of challenging the British navy with this very object in view. Germany failed, but in the Great War the old Russia of the Czars disappeared, and in its place there has arisen the Soviet Republics dominated by the communist workers.

The Soviet leaders are absolutely ruthless in their methods, inspired by the ideals of fanaticism, and spurred on by a belief that their ideas of government are the only right ones leading to freedom of the masses as opposed to all other forms of government which they hold are under the control of the hated capitalist classes. To the Soviet leaders all methods are right and fair if they will serve to accomplish their purpose. Hence the nature of the economic struggle now confronting the world.

Having seized the property of all the landed and capitalist classes of Russia, having declared it a crime for any person in Russia to hold views contrary to those of the Soviet authorities, and having imposed ultra-communist ideas upon the whole of Russia, the Soviet leaders are now utilizing and working these seized, or stolen, properties with what is to all intents and purposes convict labor. And if there is any shortage of such labor, thousands more are made readily available by trumped-up charges of treason or disobedience to the Soviet, and without trial are thrown into forced labor camps.

Coal, pulpwood, agricultural products, notably wheat, produced under such conditions at a cost against which the producers of no other country can successfully compete, are now beginning to be thrown into the markets of the world. Some tens of thousands of tons of Russian coal have been shipped into Canada; scores of shiploads of Russian pulpwood are being sent to the United States to enter into competition with Canadian pulpwood, pulp and paper; Russian wheat is going to England where it displaces hard Canadian wheat as it is largely of the same hard variety.

And this is only the beginning. The Russian Soviet Government has expended hundreds of millions of dollars within the last few years in the purchase of the most up-to-date agricultural machinery. It has granted concessions to Henry Ford to establish a great plant for the manufacture of tractors in that country; it has engaged the services of the most noted railway and agricultural experts to direct operations in Russia; it has sent commissions of its own experts to foreign lands, and more particularly to Canada and the United States, to study methods of transportation and marketing—all with a view to making an aggressive bid for the trade of the world, and based on methods and costs of production with which other countries with their greater liberty of the individual and higher standards of living cannot begin to compete.

Such, in brief outline, is the serious nature of the menace to Canadian and United States business in the Russian situation. United States labor and United States industrialists are strongly battling the unfair Russian competition. Canada must do likewise, for while a country may be willing to face the competition of other countries, both at home and abroad, upon equal terms, no country can compete with conditions such as those now prevailing in Russia and survive. It is apparent that Russia, having failed in its political attempts to sovietize the world, has now embarked upon an economic conquest.

Under these circumstances, the approaching Imperial Economic Conference, in London, England, is fraught with greater importance than any previous Empire Conference. Hon. C. A. Dunning announced that his budget was an indication of the spirit in which the King Government intended to approach that Conference, but the King Government has been defeated, the responsibility now rests with Premier Bennett, in collaboration with Premier Ramsay MacDonald, and the other Dominion Premiers, to work out an economic policy for the Empire which will enable all its component parts to successfully resist the Russian menace, and at the same time develop inter-empire trade to its fullest possible extent. Every Canadian will wish Mr. Bennett well in his important task.

Deceiving the Customer

These Berry Boxes Were Worse Than the Standard False Bottoms

In the "museum" of the Dominion Fruit Branch, at Ottawa, is a curio of unusual interest. It is a full tray of twelve blueberry boxes, each box of which is nearly half-filled with blocks of board, bits of field trash and old wood. It was picked up by the inspection service through the complaint of a purchaser on a large Eastern market. To the customer to whom these boxes were sold it was a case of "caveat emptor" with a vengeance.

B.C. Industrial Conditions

The industrial payroll of British Columbia, for 1929, is estimated at $192,092,249, a new high record, in the annual report of the provincial department of labor, the most accurate thermometer of industrial conditions in the province, as issued recently. The total is an increase of $5,994,462 over the 1928 figure.

New System Of Reporting Sales and Prices Has Been Applied

A new system of reporting live stock sales and prices has been put into effect in the Stock Yard and Market Reporting Services of the Dominion Live Stock Branch. The purpose of the new system is to afford a more adequate indication of sales and prices in relation to beef cattle coming on the market. The principal change brings to the top of the list the section of beef cattle in greatest demand, providing a clear indication of the volume and price range of the popular light cattle, and providing the consumer with a more adequate indication of grade and price than was possible under the old system.

A Challenge To Canada To Put British Empire In Forefront Of Airship Transportation

A challenge to Canada to take the next step in putting the British Empire in the forefront of airship transportation through the inauguration of a trans-Atlantic service between Great Britain and Canada before the service between Germany and the United States, being planned by Dr. Hugo Eckener, gets under way, was voiced recently by Sir Dennistoun Burney, designer of the dirigible R-100. Sir Dennistoun spoke before the Canadian Club, of Ottawa.

The sponsor of the first Great Britain-to-Canada airship flight asked for the formation of a committee of prominent Canadian business men to investigate the situation and decide whether the Canadian Government and business interests were prepared to back a trans-Atlantic airship service. With the views of such a committee before him, he would be able to lay a concrete proposition before the British Government on his return to London, England.

He was prepared, he said, to undertake at once the construction of an airship with a cruising speed of 83 miles per hour, carrying fuel for a 5,000-mile flight together with 100 passengers and 10 tons of mail. With a fleet of such vessels a regular service between Canada and Great Britain could be maintained, taking 2 1/2 days for the eastward crossing and two days for the eastward. He named $1,000 as the initial passenger fare, but predicted a gradual reduction until it would compare favorably with steamship fares.

It was time to take a bold forward step, Sir Dennistoun asserted. If the British Empire was to be knit together culturally, economically and politically, a rapid means of communication had to be provided. A service to Canada offered better immediate prospects of success than the proposed eastward service to India and Australia.

Before the proposal could be put in effect, he said, there were financial and political handicaps to be overcome. Referring to the presence of Mr. Bennett and Mr. King, he said with the co-operation of both parties the political difficulties would disappear. On the political side, he mentioned the necessity of long-term mail contracts and building loans at reasonable interest rates. On the financial side, all that was required was money, and if the business men of Canada got behind the scheme there would be no difficulty. There were no technical difficulties.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, designer of the Graf Zeppelin, Sir Dennistoun said, was organizing a German-American company to inaugurate a service between Germany and the United States. If Canada would co-operate the Canadian service would be in operation before the German.

"We could promise regularity of service by establishing an emergency base some hundreds of miles south of Montreal," said Sir Dennistoun. "Would it not be a great thing for Canada, if, during the winter months, mails and passengers could leave Toronto or Montreal and arrive in London, England, in 48 hours? Now that the R-100 has flown to Canada, you can see it for yourselves. The commercial interests of Canada and the Canadian government have some solid basis on which to form their judgment."

Judges For Community Progress Competitions

Competitions Among Rural Communities In The Three Prairie Provinces

Outstanding men and women, conversant with conditions throughout the prairie provinces, have been selected by the Canadian National Railways to judge competitions among rural communities in the three prairie provinces, which are of European origin, to be held annually for a period of five years, with three substantial prizes of $1,000, $500, and $250, respectively, to be awarded each year in each of these provinces.

The judges are: Manitoba, Dr. John Mackay, Principal, Manitoba College; Brother Joseph Pink, Principal, Provencher School, St. Boniface, and Mrs. David Watt, Birtle, who has long been prominent in women's institutes. Saskatchewan: Dr. W. C. Murray, President, University of Saskatchewan; Dr. W. J. Rose, Department of Sociology, Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., and Mrs. Violet McNaughton, organizer and former president of the Women's Grain Growers' Organization in Saskatchewan, and editor of the women's section, Western Producer, Saskatoon, Alberta: Dr. R. C. Wallace, President, Alberta University; Dr. W. H. Fairchild, Superintendent, Experimental Farm, Lethbridge, and Mrs. R. B. Gunn, Lloydminster, prominent in the women's section of the Grain Growers.

The community which, through the co-operative action of its people, shows the best schools, the most regular attendance of pupils, the largest percentage of children going on for secondary or university training, and takes the keenest interest in matters of public health, social welfare, music, arts and handicrafts, and enthusiastically supports community organizations such as agricultural societies, co-operative marketing pools, women's institutes and home makers' clubs, libraries, etc., or which evinces the greatest interest and reveals the greatest progress in the improvement of agricultural methods, will be the winner of these substantial prizes.

Saskatchewan Fur Farms

Now 222 Registered Fur Farms In the Province

Rapid increase in the number of fur farms in Saskatchewan is indicated in a recent statement issued by the provincial game branch. There are now 222 registered fur farms being operated in the province, 101 of which are fox farms. Under provisions of the Game Act, such farms must operate under a government permit.

The number of farms of each species of fur-bearers follow: Fox, 101; badger, 64; mink, 59; muskrat, 41; raccoon, 13; coyote, 13; rabbit, 3; fisher, 3; beaver, 3; skunk, 3; martin, 3; weasel, 3; bear, 2. In addition, four fur farm leases are being operated, while 20 are pending.

Registered and Certified Seed

New Regulations Are To Apply At Royal Winter Fair

An important forward step to promote the commercial production and distribution of registered and certified seeds in Canada has been taken by the Royal Winter Fair, to be held in Toronto, November 19 to 27. A new class has been added to the Royal program for seed growers of wheat, oats and barley, confined to competitors whose growing crops have been inspected in the field under the provision of the Dominion Seeds Act and who have not less than 50 bushels of registered and certified seed grain for sale in a commercial way. The actual exhibit will consist of one-half bushel sample and may be taken from the current crop or that of the previous harvest.

By the new conditions the prize winning half bushels must come from a 50 bushel bulk of the same quality and must be entered in the unbroken package sealed by an accredited inspector at the time he inspects and seals the bags or other containers of the main commercial crop. Briefly this means it will be possible for farmers to buy seed grains by sample with official assurance that the bulk will equal sample. Prize winning in the past did not give this guarantee, because entrants could hand pick the best half bushel from a large quantity of mixed grain. Over 80 prizes are offered. The spring wheat classes include the Marquis group, Garnet, Reward, Huron and Mindum. Those varieties of winter wheat, oats and barley approved for registration are eligible. Barley may be six-rowed or two-rowed. The 1930 dates for the Royal Winter Fair are November 19 to 27.

How We Spend Our Time

Estimated That a Man Of Seventy Has Spent Two Years Of His Life Shaving Himself

A Frenchman with a liking for curious figures has been counting up the time that a man ordinarily devotes to common occupations of life. He finds that a man of seventy has usually spent about nineteen years working, twenty-three years in bed, nine years amusing himself or being amused, one year in church, and two years shaving himself. This last portion of time he seems to consider as one of the great wastes of life. But, trying to imagine what we would look like if we all had beards, we are not inclined to agree with him. Even if we did all save some time from shaving there isn't any real guarantee that we would put that time to any better uses.—New Outlook.

Hurricanes in the West Indies sometimes bring to some of the small islands birds never before found there.

TEE OFF WITH BOW AND ARROW.

The arrow beat the golf ball to the cup in a contest staged recently on the Banff Springs Hotel Golf Course, when Yed-Wah Monee (Lone Walker), and Unahkias Wah-Ziee (Lone Eagle), lined up in foursomes against William Thomson, professional of the course, and his daughter Mrs. Peggy Daigleish, former Alberta Lady Champion, over nine holes. The Indians used bow and arrow while the golfers played with the usual clubs and ball. On the green the Indians shot at a four-inch disc set upright on the cup. Both sides were even at the eighth, and then the Indians won on the ninth. The unique contest excited much interest and enthusiasm among the hotel guests, who formed a large gallery following the play.

Canada will watch with a "jealous eye" anything resembling a design on the part of a foreign power to establish itself within the zone lying between her mainland and the North Pole, P. E. Corbett, dean of the law school of McGill University, said before the institute of politics.

Dean Corbett, who addressed the conference on "Problems of Sovereignty in the Arctic and Antarctic," stated that Canada claims all discovered land lying between her mainland and the North Pole, and will probably assert claim to any land that may subsequently be discovered there.

"Where occupation is not yet possible by principles of territorial proximity and possible strategic importance," he said. "These principles have never hardened into rules of international law, but they have been urged from time to time as moral and political, if not legal, grounds for the appropriation of unattached lands."

"At the present time, the main interest in the Arctic is in its position as the possible future highway of inter-hemisphere air traffic. The shortest way between Great Britain and the western part of Canada is across these northern latitudes, and the same is true for the northwestern United States and northern Europe. Landing and refueling stations along the route will be a prime necessity and if such stations in our northern hinterlands are to be within control of any one power that control ought to be Canadian."

Dean Corbett stated that the question of internationalizing the polar regions may arise if expected development in aerial navigation takes place, but that the United States has hitherto displayed little enthusiasm for such a project and without her it would be foolish to think of any such regime in polar regions. "In the meantime," he said in conclusion, "Canada, which has long may be regarded as a legitimate expectation of graduating within the next half century into the ranks of the first-class powers, will be bound to pay careful attention to developments in the Arctic, watching with a jealous eye anything resembling a design on the part of a foreign power to establish itself within a zone which we regard as belonging by right to us."

Value Of The American Hen

Poultry Industry Supplies About 10 Per Cent. Of The Total Income

The cow, the sow and the hen are greater farm-income producers, according to that of the United States official statistics, than wheat, about which we hear so much nowadays. The poultry industry, that "mere sideline" which so many farmers neglect, supplied about 10 per cent. of the total income of American farms during 1928. The egg sales were estimated at $717,000,000 and the sales of chickens brought in $458,000,000—a total for the poultry industry of $1,175,000,000 as compared with a total farm income for the nation of $11,827,000,000. These figures do not include the value of chickens and eggs consumed on the farms—an item which doubtless would itself run into seven figures.

"I want a revolver—for my husband."

Penalizing the Old Cocks

It now costs $25 in Old London to impede traffic by trying to operate an old car that should be on the junk pile. The Ministry of Transport has issued a regulation, making it an offense to take into London streets a motor truck or car which is likely to break down, either because of its decrepit condition or because of overloading.

The Up-to-date Bank.

The old excuse, "delayed at the office", is being replaced by another good one, "Couldn't find a place to park my car". But, with improvements in system in every direction, this parking problem is not going to last long.

Here is a bank, down in St. Louis, Mo., which has built a special window and driveway at one side of its building, where motorists can transact business without having to think of hiring a lot or steer clear of a hydrant. Somebody always gets up with a suggestion on "how", when the need arises.

Locomotive Hit by Motorist.

For the third time in two months the Central Vermont Railway has collected damages from a careless motorist for damage to its equipment. In this case the court awarded the railway damages against a man who had left his car on a grade crossing at Roxbury after a tire had blown out. It was hit by a freight train with damage to the locomotive.

Combined Bulldog-Burglar

The constable in a small town was also an expert veterinary surgeon. One night the phone rang and the constable's wife answered it.

"Is the constable there?" asked an agitated voice.

"Do you want my husband in his capacity of veterinarian or as constable?" inquired the woman rather pompously.

"Both, madam," came the reply. "We can't get our new buldog to open his mouth, and—and—he's got a burglar in it."

When the Cows Are Good

This is the "thanksgiving" paragraph sent to the Wetaakiwin Times by its correspondent at Winfield West: "Rev Barton, our minister, spent one day with me last week. I am proud to say that when I was milking, the cows behaved splendidly. You farmers know that when a blamed cow switches her wet tail across your face, you are liable to call her a name that the minister would not approve of."

BRITISH MARINES ARE KILLED BY CHINESE TROOPS

Shanghai.—Three British naval officers and four seamen were killed and two officers and thirteen seamen wounded by Chinese troops of Wu Pei Fu's northern armies at Wanshan Creek, 1,500 miles up the Yangtze River. The British gunboat Cockchafer returned the fire, doing considerable damage to Wanshan, a city of 150,000. How many Chinese were killed or wounded is not known.

The conflict was begun when a British naval party of forty men on a river boat attempted to release two British steamers, the Wahien and Wantung, seized by the Chinese in reprisal for the alleged drowning of fifty-six Chinese soldiers August 29, when the British steamer Wanlan, in attempting to escape from Chinese captors, upset three native boats.

The British killed were: Commander F. P. Harley and Lieut. A. R. Kieglis, of the gunboat Dispatch; Lieut. C. F. Ridge of the gunboat Cockchafer and Seamen Farnier, Harlam, Marriot and Farrow.

The Chinese troops were commanded by General Yang Sen, an adherent of Wu Pei Fu, war lord of the central provinces, who was at Hankow, hundreds of miles distant, defending himself against Cantonese forces. Yang's men had seized the British steamers and refused negotiations and threatened to fire upon the officers of the gunboat Cockchafer.

The British retired but the next day, September 6, the small river steamer Klava, with forty men of various British gunboats aboard, succeeded in rescuing the officers of the steamer Wahien before the Chinese lining the banks of the river began firing.

The British party, under fire, attempted to approach the steamer Wantung but twenty-two of the forty men of the British navy were killed or wounded. They stood by, however, with their unprotected native boat while the Wantung was leaped overboard and rescued all of them from the water except Chief Engineer Johnson, who was wounded or drowned.

The British gunboat Cockchafer then bombarded the city of Wanshan, its shells doing much damage, with an undetermined number of Chinese casualties.

Would Take Drastic Action If Necessary

British Government Is Ready To Assist Mine Workers

London.—The decision of the mine owners to refer to the various districts the question whether the executive shall be given power to negotiate with the miners for a national agreement is a result of Churchill's threat that the government having given a guarantee of fair play to the miners, would, if necessary, take drastic action against the owners if they persisted in their die-hard attitude.

The official report of the proceedings of the conference, as issued by the government, was carefully edited for public consumption, but it is understood that Churchill during the meeting expressed himself with force and emphasis and told the owners that it was impossible for the government to allow more stubbornness on their part to prevent a settlement if the miners were willing to make real concessions as it seems they are prepared to do.

Canadians Serve On League Committees

Representatives Have Been Appointed On Six At Geneva

Geneva.—Canada secured representation on all six committees of the League of Nations assembly.

Sir George E. Foster serves on the first committee, which deals with legal and constitutional questions.

Sir George is also a member of the sixth committee, along with Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent representative of Canada at Geneva. The sixth committee deals with political questions.

Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian commissioner-general in Paris, takes his seat on the second committee, handling technical and organization questions.

The third committee considers the question of the reduction of armaments, and Hon. Mr. Roy and Sir Herbert Ames, financial director of the League of Nations, represent the Dominion thereon.

Sir Herbert Ames was elected also as a member of the fourth committee to deal with finance.

Dr. Riddell is on the fifth committee, which handles social and general questions.

Report Is Encouraging

Selected Immigrants Making Good Says Overseas Representative

Winnipeg.—Under the selective plan of immigration, the families being brought to Canada from Great Britain are proving themselves willing farmers, and are making good, according to Rev. J. W. Williams, overseas representative of the British settlement service.

In connection with the activities of the service in Great Britain, Mr. Williams stated that lack of interest and lack of money were the two great obstacles which have to be overcome by those seeking to attract immigration of a desirable character to Canada. He considered that the former problem would be met gradually as those who have immigrated made good, but that the second difficulty is one of economics which can only be adjusted by some form of legislation or a general betterment of conditions that is not apparent at the present moment.

First Message Between Irish Governments

Ulster Expresses Sympathy With Free State Over Cinema Tragedy

Brunswick, County Limerick, Ireland.—Forty-eight of those who perished in the fire which swept a flimsy wooden structure where a moving picture was being shown, were buried in the local churchyard in a common grave. Twenty-six of them were charred beyond identification.

Belfast, Ireland.—For the first time in history a message of sympathy has passed between the two Irish governments.

Finance Minister Hugh Pollock, acting in the absence of Premier Craig, telegraphed President Cosgrave, of the Free State executive council, expressing Ulster's profound sympathy with those bereaved in the cinema tragedy at Brunswick.

A Handsome Bequest

Late Baroness Strathcona Left Montreal Hospital $121,500

Edinburgh, Scotland.—The will of the late Baroness Strathcona, who died on August 18 last, was filed at Register House here, is dated November 17, 1925, and includes among other public bequests, one of £25,000 (about $121,500) to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Baroness Strathcona was a daughter of Lord Strathcona, a former high commissioner for Canada in London, and succeeded to the title upon the death of her father in 1914. She was married in 1888 to Dr. Robert Jared Bliss Howard, of Montreal, who predeceased her in 1921.

Trying To Cap Volcano

Mangua, Nicaragua.—German engineers are engaged in the unique task of trying to put a cap on a volcano, Masaya, which is near the town of that name. They seek to close the crater so that its poisonous gases will not escape and damage the crops.

WOULD DEVELOP A DISTINCTIVE CANADIAN SPIRIT

Ottawa.—Canadian club members should do their part to develop a distinctive Canadianism urged C. O. Cowan, of Ottawa, president of the Association of Canadian Clubs, in welcoming the delegates to the opening session here of the 14th annual meeting of the association.

Mr. Cowan, in his presidential address, said that ties, tradition and sentiment keep Canada a part of the British Empire, but that was no reason, he pleaded, why Canadians should not develop an individuality. It was not necessary, urged Mr. Cowan, that Canadian institutions should be simple imitations of either British or American. In a number of ways Canadians have already shown capacity to develop their own institutions.

Interchange of speakers and visits of club members will be continued, said Mr. Cowan, as the policy is considered effective in discouraging racial and sectional prejudices.

Too much is being heard, Mr. Cowan went on, quoting the remark of a recent writer, of east and west, of Ontario and Quebec, and not enough is being heard of Canada.

It was announced that preparations are being made for an adequate celebration next year of the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation throughout the Dominion. There will be a celebration in the capital, said Mr. Cowan, and also throughout the provinces, and the Canadian Clubs will be urged to take definite steps in that connection.

Canada Not A Candidate

Will Not Ask For Seat On League Council Says Sir George Foster

Paris.—The Geneva correspondent of Excelsior, a daily paper of Paris, states that some of the British dominions are urging Canada to ask for a seat on the league council, but he adds that Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, is not in favor of this. Other powers, the correspondent says, are not in favor of the proposal.

Sir George E. Foster, in reply to a query at Geneva, said that Canada was not a candidate for one of the nine newly created non-permanent seats on the council.

She Dances to the Waterfall

The wonderful spring of the little waterfall known as the Giant Steps, Paradise Valley, near Lake Louise, apparently inspired this nature-dancer with the spirit of life, and with the song of the water and the soft whistling of the bird-life abounding in the woods around. She was photographed while dancing to the music of her soul.

Oppose Wage Increase

Railway Companies Present Their Case In Wage Dispute

Montreal.—Maintaining that the present cost of living and the rates of pay now in existence as they affect conductors, trainmen and yardmen on the C.N. and C.P.R. do not justify an increase in wages, representatives of both railways presented their case to Mr. Justice H. T. Kelly, of Toronto, and his two colleagues on the board of arbitration and conciliation now attempting to arrive at a settlement in the wage dispute between employees of the two railways and their employers.

The railways point out that the existing rates were established by a board of conciliation in 1921 and that since that time the railways have suffered substantial reductions in passenger and freight rates and the cost of living has also decreased somewhat. The existing wage scale, they point out further, is the outgrowth of conditions developed during and subsequent to the war.

With regard to the present applicants who, the railways claim, are among the highest-paid classes of railway employees in the Canadian service, the joint statement of the companies points out that the application is identical in all respects with those already submitted to and declined by the United States roads.

Trouble In Spain

Relief Is Expressed That Revolt Is Only Sidetracked

London.—Uncensored dispatches from Spanish correspondents of some of the London morning papers represent the trouble in Spain rather as having been sidetracked than definitely overcome by authorities.

A dispatch to the Daily Express from Barcelona reports that the army in Spain has been split in two, that there have been mutinies throughout the country and that the navy is exhibiting unrest.

Hundreds of apprehensive Spaniards are said to be fleeing into France to invest their capital there.

Continue Customs Probe

Inquiries In Maritime Finished and May Be Resumed In Vancouver

Montreal.—The royal commission investigating the administration of the customs department has now finished its inquiries in the Maritime province and will probably proceed at the beginning of next month to Vancouver, it was stated by R. L. Calder, K.C., counsel for the royal commission.

After Vancouver the commission would probably proceed to Windsor, Ont., and Toronto.

GERMANY NOW IS A MEMBER OF THE LEAGUE

Geneva.—Germany, with impressive unanimity was elected a member of the League of Nations, and was thus bidden to enter the portals of Geneva's institution of peace.

Without a dissenting vote also Germany was designated "for all times" as president Nizichich put it, a member of the league council, and will thus sit as the equal of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

Germany has accepted the action of the league for Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, received a telegram from Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, announcing the departure of a German delegation for Geneva, and by this acceptance committed itself to submission to all the obligations and responsibilities under the covenant of the league, which was fashioned to outlaw war.

The assembly also ratified the recommendation for an increase of the number of the non-permanent members of the council from six to nine.

Another incident compelling international attention was India protesting with no faltering voice her ambition to become a self-governing country, like Canada or Australia. Speaking first in perfect English, then translating his own address into flawless French, the Maharajah of Kaptipour, attired in the latest occidental garb, spoke festively of the awakening India, voicing the united and self-governing country like Canada or Australia.

He related India's progress in the social and hygienic fields and assured the delegates that India's 380,000,000 inhabitants were represented at Geneva by a delegation ready and eager to do its share in the betterment of the world.

Now that Germany's advent into the league is assured, statesmen are concentrating their attention on the question of the Reich's probable political activities at Geneva. Leading delegates venture the hope that Germany will not act brusquely but will feel her way gradually toward a solution of outstanding problems, such as the restoration of her colonies and the evacuation of German soil.

Wrecked German Express

Two Unemployed Men Caused Death Of Twenty-two Passengers

Berlin.—Two unemployed men, Otto Seidelinger and Hilmy Weber, arrested on suspicion of having caused the disaster to the Berlin-Cologne express near Lehrte, August 19, in which 22 passengers were killed, are said to have confessed.

The police said the men said they tore up the track with the intention of derailing the train, but when the wreck occurred they were so horrified by the screams of the injured that they fled, abandoning the chance to plunder the coaches.

Encourage British Emigration

London.—In reply to the Evening Post, Lady Aberdeen suggests a plan to encourage British emigration to Canada, namely that brothers and sisters of all classes should go out together, chain their land grant, take service with neighboring farmers and learn farming and the customs of the country while watching over the erection of their house and the preparation of their farm.

Madrid.—King Alfonso signed a decree ending the state of war which was proclaimed throughout Spain in consequence of the mutinous movement in the artillery corps.

SAYS JUSTICE TO ALWAYS GOVERN ADMINISTRATION

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general, in a statement declared that "justice, honesty and economy" would be his policy in administering the post office department.

The text of the statement of the postmaster reads:

"Justice, honesty, economy, such shall be my policy in the administration of the post office department. The law which governs us shall be respected with discrimination and the regulations shall be observed with the greatest discrimination.

"Racial, religious or political fanaticism shall never prevail with me. I shall continue to consider them as the most dangerous enemies of the country.

"I shall follow to the letter the policy of an honest man and a good Canadian, directed by the head of the government; a policy of peace, concord and of sound protection which will permit the rational development and utilization of all the desirable resources of our country.

"The employees who have, without reserve, conformed to the law, understood their duty in their observance of impartiality and who have intelligently shown the respect due to the political authorities or their accredited representatives have nothing to fear from me.

"I shall make a distinction between the latter and those who have constituted themselves the active agents of their party or the carriers of lies and infamous calumnies. It would be unjust and cruel, for instance, to put out on the street, without reason, a good father of a family who has been in office for a number of years and who might find it difficult to work elsewhere.

"It is, I believe, in the post office department that certain classes of employees are the most exposed to indulge in political partisanship.

"A careful inquiry will be made in regard to everything concerning my department, in order to avoid, as far as possible, injustices and errors. I am not infallible but if I should commit an error, I shall do my best to repair it.

"The assurances given to me by the deputy minister, whom I have known for a long time, as well as by the heads of other branches, justify my belief that I shall be able to carry out, with success, the administration of my department.

"I also greatly appreciated the act of courtesy and deference of my predecessor, Hon. Mr. Veniot, who came loyally to call upon me and to give me appropriately certain important information."

Fredericton, N.B.—Addition restriction calculated to reduce drunkenness under the operation of the New Brunswick Liquor Control Act, has been authorized by the provincial cabinet.

Tribal Unrest Spreading

British Forces in India, However, Appear To Be Handling Situation
Peshawar, India.—The spirit of tribal unrest appears to be spreading on the northwestern frontier, with British forces tightening the defence by increasing aerial bombing operations and rushing fresh troops northward.

Most of the Afridis who have been besieging this strategic city for a week have withdrawn under constant bombing, but meager reports from the countryside indicate that they have spread in all directions and that all branches of the tribe have taken up arms.

An indeterminate number of Drakzais have joined the Afridis, a party identified as Massadon attacked Badama Post, and the Chamkennis were on the war path until the air force informed them that their own villages would be bombed unless they ceased their depredations.

Peshawar itself was quiet, and apparently most of the assailants have withdrawn under heavy bombing. One party attacked the cantonments, however, inflicting a scattering of side fire that did no damage. They withdrew at dawn.

Meanwhile, fresh troops arrived on an armored train from Lahore. The city gates were opened for it, but ordinary trains must stop at Nowshera and the passengers continue here by taxicab.

The six squadrons of army airplanes on duty in the sector are credited with a breaking up the plans for a mass attack on Peshawar. In one day these machines dropped 6,000 small bombs, and they have made daily attacks on various groups. As one instance they spotted the 1,500 Muslims who attacked Badama Post, and wounded 20 of them.

Alberta Protests

Claim That Foreign Immigrants Are Being Dumped In Province

Edmonton, Alberta.—Capt. E. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Soldier Settlement Board here, has been asked by the Department of Labor at Ottawa, to investigate charges that 200 German immigrants were "dumped" in Alberta last week. The inquiry has been requested as the result of a telegram of protest sent to Premier R. B. Bennett by Hon. George Hoadley, acting premier of Alberta.

Denial of the allegations has been made by the steamship company concerned, and by the editor of "Der Herald," German newspaper here, but Walter Widmer, secretary of the association of German-speaking workers, insists the charges he leveled are well-founded.

Meeting Of C.M.A. Tariff Section

Understood That Organization Is Opposed To High Duties

Toronto, Ont.—Manufacturers representing every branch of industry in Canada, were represented at the meeting of the tariff section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association held here.

Officials of the organization decline to give out anything for publication regarding the meeting, which was the regular gathering of the section and holds all its meetings in camera.

It is understood the question of advanced duties on boots and shoes, leather goods, automobiles and automobile accessories and other items were discussed.

The tone of the meeting is said to have been against high duties generally with a moderate increase on some Canadian lines being advocated as a help to Canadian trade and the reduction of unemployment.

The matters dealt with at the meeting will be submitted to the executive council meeting of the association, to be held after the regular meetings of the transportation, commercial intelligence, and industrial relations committees within a short time.

Restrict Immigration

Dominion Government May Take Steps To Regulate Entries

Ottawa, Ont.—Indications are that steps will be taken by the Dominion Government to restrict immigration to Canada. While no official announcement was made at the conclusion of a meeting of the cabinet, it is understood that the matter of immigration was under discussion.

Any action taken, it is believed, would be aimed at the restriction of newcomers from European countries so as not to add to the unemployed. It is rumored that the so-called railway agreements respecting immigration will not likely be renewed, especially under present provisions. A statement on the subject of immigration may be issued shortly.

There are ships in port for 170,156 bushels.

UNEMPLOYMENT SURVEY IS MADE BY GOVERNMENT

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, announced recently that the government is making a quick survey of unemployment conditions in Canada, and that the employment service council has been called to meet here on August 21 to consider information which will have been gathered by that time.

After the council has discussed the situation disclosed, recommendations will be made for consideration of the government and will form a basis for unemployment relief measures to be submitted to parliament at the special session early next month.

In the last day or two, the minister stated, the Department of Labor has communicated with all the provinces and with the mayors of municipalities with population of 10,000 or more, asking them to advise the department as near as possible the extent of unemployment and to estimate what the situation will be this coming winter. They have been asked to send the information in within 10 days, so that the department will be able to sift the data and have it ready for the meetings of the unemployment service council.

Fires Destroys Quebec Village

Property Damage Is Estimated At $200,000

Masson, Que.—Between 500 and 600 persons are homeless, and nearly 50 houses destroyed—such is an estimate by Rev. Monsignor Routhier, parish priest of Masson, of the conflagration which swept this little town recently.

Mme. Joseph Lafamme died during the afternoon and although not injured in the fire, it is believed the shock hastened her death. Property damage was estimated at $200,000. No one was killed and no one received serious injuries in the blaze.

This well-ordered community on the banks of the Lievre River, 21 miles from Ottawa, was beset with a devastation of a character difficult to describe. An area of over a quarter of a mile square which this morning housed nearly 120 families was simply a heap of smouldering embers. Red gusts of flames flicked up from piles of charred debris spoke eloquently of the disaster which had befallen Masson.

Sporting Notes

Local baseball fans had the pleasure of seeing the Stony team win both their games at the ball festa on the local diamond Sunday afternoon. Onoway was the first team to encounter the localites, and made a good showing the first part of the game, having 4-0 score to their credit then. By a streak of luck, with 2 men out Stony made a half dozen runs; ending the game with 11-6 to their credit. Stony Battery—Mitchell and C. Fuhr.

The second game proved to be even much easier for the home team against the Riviere Qui Barres, they making a runaway game of it up to the opening of the 7th with 9-0. During the balance of the game the referee got quite a razzing for what the fans thought were raw deal decisions. At the latter part of the game Stony's outfielders missed catching several highballs, due to the sun shining in their eyes; Final score: Stony 12, R.Q.B. 5. Stony battery, Enders & Lory. Referee—Ph D Fuhr.

Several teams of soft-ball players have been formed locally, and the few games that have been played have been received enthusiastically. The game on the local diamond Friday night was a good exhibition, the Single Men beating the Married by a score of 5 runs to 3.

Stony's Anglican Chapel

The Sun has been given to understand that the Anglican chapel on 2d St. will shortly be put on the market for a sale. Recently, when it building in which worship was required at Duffield, it was proposed to move the local structure to the western burg; but the moving expenses apparently proved prohibitive; and a chapel at Duffield is now under construction. Two years ago the rector at Wabamun had the edifice here advertised for sale, with no adequate offer. In the event of it again being put up, it will probably be purchased by a local builder and converted to a dwelling.

On Friday evening last a unique event took place at the Grove, when the anniversaries of the birthdays of Mr Joe D Miller and of Mrs Miller took place. By a happy coincidence, Mr Miller's natal day is Aug. 14, and that of Mrs Miller the 16th, so a felicitous arrangement was reached to have the combined celebrations take place on the day between. About two score people, friends and relatives, took part in the event, sitting down to a recherche dejeuner, the centre of the table showing a pair of artistically decorated birthday cakes. After a very pleasurable evening, the guests departed, wishing each of this popular couple many happy returns.

Changes in operating organization on Canadian Pacific western lines are announced as follows:—J. H. Chouin, superintendent of Saskatchewan southern lines, transferred from Regina to Edmonton; M. MacArthur, superintendent, Medicine Hat division, transferred to Regina; G. J. Fox, in charge of Edmonton division, transferred to Medicine Hat. These transfers are made in accordance with the company's policy of enabling its officers to broaden their experience in railway matters.

American rollers beat British players because they are more interested in the scientific angles of the game and generally speaking try harder, according to Don Moo, University of Oregon wizard, interviewed at Vancouver, travelling Canadian Pacific from the western Open at Chicago and the American Open tournaments at Minneapolis. He described English rollers as the best sportsmen he had ever encountered.

Seven hundred Americans, about two-thirds women, toured Nova Scotia recently by Dominion Atlantic Railway, after arrival at Halifax aboard S.S. California. Five more new bridges are to be constructed on New Brunswick highways, tenders having been called for by Hon. D. A. Canadian entries in the overseas section of the British National Free-Laying contest are holding their own with the world's best egg producers. Reports received by F. C. Market prospects for fruit growers of Nova Scotia are encouraging because the British Isles must look to Nova Scotia for the bulk of their barrelled apple supply until November 15, as a result of the embargo on barrelled fruit from the United States.

Last year a British artist publicly declared Canadian women to be the most beautiful in the Empire and now another Briton—this time a newspaper man—claims they are the Empire's greatest travellers. It appears that a check-up on railway travel in summer reveals that sixty per cent. are "males."

CHAPTER XXVI.

On a morning in August Charman unlocked the door into what had recently been John Carter's office, and opened the easement wide. The door was no longer covered by the soft Bokhara; the windows were bare of hangings; the bookshelves empty. Only the tall brass andirons gleamed a welcome from the blackened hearth; and the girl wiped the dust from Great-grandfather Davis's old chair, and looked appraisingly at her surroundings.

As she did so a brisk step sounded on the sidewalk, and in another moment the doorway was blotted out by George K.'s ample figure.

"What you up to this morning?" he questioned genially. "Saw the door wide open, and thought I'd take a look. Kind of bare, isn't it, since your doctor departed?" But it's a pretty place in spite of that."

"Come in," smiled Charman. "You're the one person in Wickfield I want to see."

"You flatter me," replied George K., and smiled.

"Sit down," she said. "This is the only chair, but I'll perch on the desk if you don't mind. Uncle George, I'm sick with indecision of a lot of subjects, but one thing's clear: I've got to give up the school."

"I've been expecting that," the banker responded. "Only last night Salina was saying that Grandma—well . . ."

He hesitated, but Charman asked bravely: "Then others have seen it, too?"

George K. nodded, and the girl went on: "She's failed this summer—not in her mind, thank heaven! but she's not so brisk and happy as she was a year ago. I've got to be with her more. It was hard last winter, even with John Carter to help out. I'll never never forget how good he was to her, running in between patients to see if she needed anything—getting her lunch—jolly her along and keeping her happy and contented. I'll be grateful to him as long as I live; but things have changed. She needs me now, and I can't be away all day. But—but I'm afraid, Uncle George, that we'll have to sell the house."

"And live here?" he questioned. Charman nodded because it was hard to speak; but after a moment she continued: "It was Doctor Howe's idea. He must have realized that the time would come when I couldn't make both ends meet. Oh, if I could only have kept the house as long as Grandma lived! I dread to tell her."

George K. arose, suddenly. He went to the window, his back to Charman, and blew a loud blast upon his nose. When he turned he said with a good attempt at cheer: "You needn't dread it, Charman. Grandma's a brave woman; she won't flinch. Look here, child, if I gave you an allowance just as if you were my daughter, and—"

"Oh, Uncle George!" cried Charman. "How can I be downhearted when I've got friends like you? Of course you can't give me an allowance; but perhaps you can help me sell the house. That must be done before I can go ahead and make this livable. The only trouble is—I will anybody want it?"

"Don't worry about that, my dear. I had an offer for it several months ago. I didn't say anything about it because I thought just then that a certain M.D. of our acquaintance might make his home here permanently. But if the place is on the market you won't have to hunt a purchaser."

Charman, who had flushed during this frank speech, asked breathlessly: "Who wants it? Will they pay anything like what the old place is really worth?"

The banker nodded.

"You won't be cheated while I do the bargaining, my child. You ought to get enough, reserving this building and a small strip of land, so you can live on the interest—in Wickfield. I'll see that you do. Once you make the change, Charman, I think you'll find life surprisingly easier; and after all, you'll still be occupying a corner of your ancestral acres, if that's any comfort."

Charman was looking through the open easement toward the homestead that was her greatest pride. She said, at last: "It ought to be, of course; but it'll be hard to see strangers come in and out of the old house. Who wants it, Uncle George?"

George K. hesitated a moment before he answered: "I'm not at liberty to say at present; though I don't see why. It's some one who's driven through Wickfield frequently, and taken a fancy to the place. He's a young man, who, I believe, is going to be married; but he said there's no hurry about your getting out. In fact, he'd like you to stay on for a while, as caretaker, and superintend the necessary repairs. I suppose when it comes to any real remodeling he'll get the verdict of the lady in the case. That's all I know."

"Then you really mean that the house is as good as sold?"

"I'm sure of it. I'll drop him a line today and ask when the papers can be signed. As for this little place, Charman, with a few alterations it can be made delightful; and Grandma will be happy knowing your work is lighter. It's without doubt the sensible thing to do."

"I'm afraid," said Charman as he arose, "that I don't like being sensible, Uncle George. Do you think these people are the sort who'll spoil the house with the wrong sort of improvements; the way so many old houses have been spoiled?"

"I'm sure they're not," was the emphatic answer. "It's quaintness was what attracted the young man. Don't lose sleep over that. Now I must run in and speak to Grandma. Charman—" George K. turned as he reached the door. "What's the matter with John Carter? Salina says the life has gone out of his step in the last month. Have you broken his heart?"

Charman smiled. "I have an uncomfortable feeling that the consensus of opinion in Wickfield is that he has broken mine!"

"He hasn't—has he?"

George K. looked so genuinely solicitous that the girl said quickly: "What nonsense!—though if he had I wouldn't admit it for a kingdom. As Grandma frequently remarks, 'we Davises have our pride.' The only thing that's broken my heart is Uncle George, is the thought that I haven't been clever enough to keep the Davis homestead in the family. As for John Carter, if the life has gone out of his step, I'm truly sorry. He dropped it yesterday when I was at the library, and Grandma said he looked abominably tired. I'll run into his office this afternoon with an imaginary ache, and see what I can do about it. I'd bring even the Wickfield gossip to help as a good friend as he has been to us."

"Well, so long," smiled the banker. "I'll let you know what I hear from your purchaser, my dear."

Charman stood at the window watching him cross the driveway and disappear under the golden pineapple. "I believe," she mused, "that the whole thing will be easier now it's settled. This will make a darling living room. Grandma will get a better view of the street from this window than from the old one. I can sleep on a couch in here, and Grandma can have the other room. Of course it's the only thing to do! Why, hello! where did you come from?"

This question was addressed to John Carter, who stood, as George K. had an hour earlier, in the doorway. At Charman's greeting he came forward, tossed his hat onto the desk, and answered: "I couldn't resist the lure of that open door. I never pass here, Charman, without a homesick twinge. Never again shall I have an office that so exactly suits me; and I miss you and Grandma more than you'd guess. You see, there's not enough sickness this time of year to keep me from thinking of things that had better be forgotten. Well, let's forget 'em!" he said more cheerfully. "What brought you here this morning, may I ask?"

Charman told him, adding that the old doctor had made the plan for her; and that George K. had a purchaser for the house.

"So you see," she ended, "everything's done—except telling Grandma. I admit that I can't quite face the thought of that, ordest."

The young man looked very serious as he replied: "Let me tell her, Charman. I'm hardened to breaking unpleasant truths to people. Besides, unless I'm mistaken, Grandma is fond of me. I can break the news as painlessly as you can."

He was seated on Great-grandfather Davis's old desk, and the girl looked up at him from the chair, her blue eyes misting.

"John Carter, I ought to be ashamed! I don't believe a girl ever had such friends before. Here's Uncle George wanting to give me an allowance so I needn't sell the place; and you—Well, I hope some day I can repay you for all you've done for me and been to us this year. But I guess I'll have to tell Grandma myself. It seems, somehow, as if I ought to; but if my courage deserts me at the last moment I'll make an ignominious retreat and send for you. Now that's enough of my troubles for one day. Let's hear yours for a change."

Late that afternoon when Charman returned from a call at the Merry's, she found Grandma, bright-eyed, at the window.

"I've been gallivanting," she explained as the girl kissed her. "Just after you started, along came the doctor and made me go for a ride. We've been clear to Eastboro, and I don't feel one mile tired. I will say that his car's a sight more comfortable than Edward Howe's was."

"I'm glad you've had such a good time," smiled Charman. "Mrs. Merry has a new picture of the baby; and Madge wrote that she'd send me another view. He's terribly cunning—looks for all the world like a miniature George. What do you want for supper, Grandma? It's almost time."

Little Helps For This Week

"Lead us not into temptation." —Matthew vi. 13.

Ah! He who prayed the prayer of all mankind Summed in those few, brief, words the mightiest plea. For erring souls before the courts of heaven—Save us from being tempted—lest we fall.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The petition of "Lead us not into temptation" is the prayer of Christian humility, conscious of its own weakness. If this prayer is truly offered, it may supersede the necessity of temptation. If we are already conscious of our weakness, we may not need the trial which is sent to show us our weakness.

Clans to Carry Fiery Cross at Banff

When the Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival is held at the Banff Springs Hotel, August 29 to September 1, under the patronage of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales and the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, one of the high lights of this great annual gathering of the clans will be the Fiery Cross race, reminiscent of the days when the clansmen were summoned to war by runners carrying a burning torch through the glens.

Seventeen Highland regiments in Canada have entered their best pipers to compete for valuable trophies. Lads and lassies dressed in the flashiest kilts will perform reels, sword dances and Highland flings. Leading Scottish athletes of the Dominion have been rounded up for the traditional Caledonian games, such as putting the "stone," and tossing the caber, as well as the more usual track and field events.

The musical programme this year will be concentrated on the songs of Robert Burns and two ballad operas incorporating these songs will be presented—one entitled "The Ayrshire Ploughman," written by J. E. Middleton, with arrangements by Healey Willan, distinguished Canadian composer, and the other, Burns' own cantata of "The Jolly Beggars." The Alfred Heather Light Opera Company, now presenting a two-month season of Canadian and Old English operas at the Banff Springs Hotel, will supply the artists for these productions.
